Welcome to the 2012-2013 Coahoma Community College Fact Book. The fact book, an annual publication produced by the Office of Institutional Effectiveness, provides enrollment statistics, faculty and staff data, financial reports, and other comprehensive information for Coahoma Community College's main campus, off-campus learning sites, and distance education program.

The purpose of the publication is to provide accurate and useful research that stakeholders and decision-makers can use for institution-wide planning, evaluation, and continuous improvement.

Numerous departments and divisions from the institution provided data for this publication. Statistics were also gathered from the Mississippi Community College Board, Mississippi Institutions of Higher Learning, Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System, U.S. Census Bureau, Mississippi Development Authority, and internal assessment reports.

It is important to note that the information contained in this fact book may differ from data reported by federal, state, and regional agencies due to differences in reporting guidelines, reporting definitions, and the timing of when the information was prepared.

In order to make information readily available to all of the institution's constituents, fact books are published in PDF format on the Institutional Effectiveness website: <http://www.coahomacc.edu/ie/factbooks.php>. COAHOMA COMMUNITY COLLEGE HISTORY

Coahoma County Agricultural High School in 1924 becoming the first agricultural high school in Mississippi for Negroes under the then existing "separate but equal" doctrine. The junior college curriculum was added in 1949, and the name of the institution was changed to Coahoma Junior College and Agricultural High School.

During the first two years (1949-1950), the junior college program was conducted by one full-time college director-teacher and a sufficient number of part-time teachers from the high school division. A full-time dean and college faculty were employed the third year.

During the first year of operation (1949), Coahoma Junior College was supported entirely by county funds. In 1950, Coahoma Junior College became the first educational institution for Negroes to be included in Mississippi's system of public junior colleges and to be eligible to share in funds appropriated by the Mississippi Legislature for the support of public junior colleges. Counties, other than Coahoma, that supported the college were Bolivar, Quitman, and Sunflower.

In 1965, Coahoma Junior College opened its doors to all students regardless of race, color, sex, national origin or disability.

During its history Coahoma Community College and Agricultural High School has been headed by nine superintendents and five presidents: M. L. Strange, 1924-25; J. M. Mosley, 1924-29; J. W. Addison, 1929-37; J. B. Wright, 1937-45; B. F. McLaurin, 1945-66; J. E. Miller, 1966-79; McKinley C. Martin, 1980-92; Vivian M. Presley, 1992-2013. Dr. Valmadge Towner joined this esteemed group of leaders in July 1, 2013, when he was named Coahoma Community College's fifth president and Coahoma Agricultural High School's ninth superintendent.

With the approval of the Board of Trustees of Coahoma Junior College and the Mississippi State Board for Community and Junior Colleges, Coahoma Junior College's name was changed to Coahoma Community College, effective July 1, 1989.

In the spring of 1995, after many years of not having an official district, a bill was introduced into and passed by the Mississippi Legislature and signed by the Governor giving Coahoma Community College a district. Effective July 1, 1995, the Coahoma Community College district became Bolivar, Coahoma, Quitman, Tallahatchie and Tunica Counties.

COAHOMA COMMUNITY COLLEGE LOCATION

The main campus of Coahoma Community College is located in Coahoma County, about four miles north of the city of Clarksdale. Coahoma is easily accessible from four major highways: U.S. 61, U.S. 49, Miss. 6, and Miss. 1. The ninety-nine acre campus lies in an agrarian setting along Clarksdale-Friars Point Road near the Mississippi River, which forms the western boundary of Coahoma County. The Coahoma Community College District includes Bolivar, Coahoma, Quitman, Tallahatchie, and Tunica Counties.
