

Reading Apprenticeship Training for QEP

Reading Apprenticeship (RA) is a research-based framework that helps students improve their reading comprehension skills in specific content areas. RA allows students to develop the strategies, knowledge, and mindset to become more effective readers.

When: *Tuesday, Nov. 3rd &
Tuesday, Nov. 17th*
(must attend both sessions)

Time: 2:00 p.m.— 4:00 p.m.

Location: *Whiteside Hall
Room 221*

Training participants will:

- Acquire an understanding of Reading Apprenticeship as an instructional framework.
- Learn how to engage students in collaborative inquiry about their varied reading processes, fostering "metacognitive conversation" in classrooms.
- Learn how to make the complex, invisible processes you use as readers visible to students.
- Learn how to apprentice students to the disciplinary ways of reading and thinking that are needed for success in college.
- Learn how to make changes in classroom practice to build on students' strengths as readers and learners.
- Learn how to engage students in more reading.

To register, complete the attached registration form. If you have questions, please contact RA trainers, Karen Done at kwdone@coahomacc.edu or Barbara Boschert at bboschert@coahomacc.edu.
